PERMITS AND CITY FEES

The fine print... and how fine it is!

The city of New Orleans requires certain documentation to be filed in advance when a second line is performed on the city streets. Specifically, NOPD requires a permit, an officially recorded route and police escorts. There's no way to get around this — but luckily, we can do it all for you.

Big Fun Brass Band will handle your route planning, permit filing, communication with NOPD, and all logistics related to your specific event. Permit fees usually come to about $550, and we charge a nominal fee of $100 to get it all squared away on your behalf.

Good to know:

If your guest list reaches 190 or more, the cost of your permits may go up as much as $200

If we parade down a two-lane street, the cost of your permits may go up by roughly $130
